Wed, November 6, 2024: Nazis on the Potomac

During WWII, the U.S. military established a complex in Fort Hunt, Virginia to collect vital information from the highest-level Nazi prisoners through interrogation and eavesdropping. Many of the U.S. servicemen responsible for this intelligence-gathering were Jews who had escaped Nazi Germany, and their background enabled them to develop and deploy a variety of tricks to gain information without use of corporal punishment. Author Robert K. Sutton, former chief historian of the National Park Service will discuss the fascinating story behind this facility and his book "Nazis on the Potomac."

Wed, November 13, 2024: Central Union Mission: NOVA

After more than 140 years of serving people in need in the District of Columbia and Maryland, Central Union Mission has expanded into Northern Virginia. Working in collaboration with other ministries in the area, Central Union Mission will provide a wide range of services to those in need. Joe Mettimano, Mission President & CEO will talk to us about Central Union Mission and the services offered at their new location at Greenbrier Baptist Church in South Arlington.

Wed, November 20, 2024: Tax Savings Strategies

There is no doubt that tax season is one of the most stressful times of the year. Tax forms are complicated, time consuming, and the end result is often an unexpected tax bill. Isabel Barrow, Director of Financial Planning at Edelman Financial Engines will discuss tax savings strategies that you can implement now to minimize your tax bill including required minimum distributions, qualified charitable distributions, loss harvesting, benefits of municipal bonds and the additional standard deduction for seniors.

Wed, November 27, 2024: Aging Matters Podcast & TV

Launched in 2017, Aging Matters features interviews with individuals with expertise about a broad array of aging related topics. The program's focus is to educate listeners and viewers and raise awareness about aging related issues that impact older adults, their care partners, and families. Producer and Aging Matters host Cheryl Beversdorf will offer an overview of how program topics are selected, guests are identified, and shows are produced. She will also provide a brief segment of a recent podcast and clip of a TV episode.
